DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 38-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 38, the general structure has the character "y" which is not defined in the claim or the specification and since such character can have numerous values it is unclear to the Examiner would the applicant is claiming.

3. The term "lower" in claim 39 lines 5-6 and 10-11 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "lower" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The term lower is a relative term and without any reference value it can read on a variety of values depending on the person interpreting the claim therefore the claim is indefinite.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments, see pages 7-8, filed 5/15/2008, with respect to claims 33-37 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 33-37 has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 33-37 are allowed.
6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art teaches applying a coating to a medical device wherein the coating has a lubricious polymer and at least one polymer see US 5693034. The prior art also teaches applying coatings formed of a mixture of a lubricious polymer and at least one polymer which is crosslinkable by an oxygen insensitive non cationic mechanism see Ichimura 4564580 wherein the coatings are applied to printing plates. However, the prior art fails to teach that such coatings are applied to medical devices or motivation to modify such prior art to use such coatings on medical devices.
